

Ten Ordinances

Were Approved By City Council At Single Session

The City Council Monday night completed passage of the remaining 10 ordinances of the administrative code of the city, and by doing so established a record in Maine municipal affairs in passing that number in a single meeting.

Ordinances on personnel and elections, which have had first reading, will be given public hearing next Tuesday night in the council rooms.

Introduced were ordinances governing the City Council, building code and fire prevention, all of which will be given public hearing on March 4.

The police ordinance was revised to give the power of constables to local police officers to allow them to act, at the suggestion of city solicitor, Jerome Burrows.

An Essay Contest

Calculated To Inspire Broad Knowledge Of Cancer Treatment

Members of the senior classes of the 241 Secondary Schools in Maine are having an opportunity to compete for a scholarship of a year's tuition at one of our four Maine Colleges, by writing an essay of approximately 1,000 words about Cancer.

The need of recognition of the early stages of Cancer prompted the Maine Cancer Society to grant such a scholarship in an effort to broaden the knowledge of the Danger Signals of Cancer; the location of Diagnostic and Treatment Clinics, and where to secure information on the subject.

High School principals have been asked to send in the essays, coded and numbered, to the Maine Cancer Society by March 30th.

Judges will be appointed by the Executive Committee of the Maine Cancer Society. They will be influential physicians and laymen.

The scholarship winner will be announced during the month of April, the month set aside as Cancer Control Month.

Ambitious Teachers

Nearly A Hundred From This Section Are Studying Advanced Courses

Supt. of Schools Robert B. Lunt, who organized the project.

Ninety-three educators from this section are availing themselves of the remarkable opportunity for professional advancement offered by the Harvard-Boston University Extension Course being presented in a series of lecture-demonstrations in the Rockland High School by education experts of national standing.

Communities may be properly appreciative of Teachers who a considerable expense and labor to themselves undertake to carry these highly intensive courses that they may better serve their pupils and advance their standing in the teaching profession.

Appended is a list of teachers and the towns in which they teach, who are studying:

Rockland: Addie R. Rogers, Anna L. Webster, Mary A. Brown, Helen G. Cox, Mildred B. Merrill, Nellie Hall, Mary J. Smith, Margaret A. Buttner, Ellen K. Nelson, Ruth B. Sturtevant, Dorothy E. ## Appleton Man Chosen

Roland Gushee Elected President Of K. L. Dairy Herd Imp. Ass'n.

Officers elected Tuesday afternoon at the annual meeting of the Knox and Lincoln Counties Dairy Herd Improvement Association at Seven Tree Grange Hall are president, Roland Gushee of Appleton; vice president, Frank Plagg of Jefferson; secretary-treasurer, Herbert Spear of Nobleboro; directors, Ralph Keene, Damariscotta, Clifton Walker of Alna, and Schuyler Hawes of Union.

Benjamin Nichols of Hope, president of the past year, presided at the meeting. Speaker was Ralph Corbet, assistant Dairy Specialist of the Extension Service of the University of Maine and there was discussion on the feed situation, artificial breeding and pictures of outstanding herds, including heifers and pasture improvement were shown.

Also present at the meeting attended by 35 members of the Association, was Ralph C. Wentworth, County Agent. Dinner was served by Mrs. Herbert Hawes, Mrs. Lizzie Hawes, Mrs. Bessie Carroll and Mrs. Emma Sayward of the Grange. Leroy Brown, new poultry marketing specialist of the State Department of Agriculture, will be speaker Saturday at the day meeting of Seven Tree Grange, to which seven granges are invited. The third and fourth degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates for the host grange. Mrs. Estella Hannon will be dinner committee chairman for that meeting.

The fight card scheduled for the Park Street Arena last Friday night and postponed due to storm conditions, will be presented tonight by promoter Leslie Murray in full. The main bout will bring together Kid Nolan of Waterville and Eddie Turner of Bangor, weighing in at 168 and 170 respectively. Semi-finalists are Silco Dennis and Tommy Rockne who are evenly matched as to weight, and according to the experts, in ability as well. The remainder of the card brings forth some good scrapers.

Waldoboro: Athea Winchenbach, Lillian Boggs, Dorothy M. Miller, Annette Brooks, Earl Spear, Ada Howes.

Belmont: Marion Cushman.

Legare Crossed Bay

With Mail And Supplies For North Haven Following Storm

Following two days of storms in which small boats could not cross the bay, and during which the island of North Haven had neither food supplies, freight, mail or passenger service, the residents of the island appealed yesterday morning to Commander Isaac L. Hammond of the local Coast Guard base for the services of a cutter.

The Legare, Lieutenant Fred Belton commanding, left Rockland at 1 o'clock, carrying all freight, mail and passengers destined for the island community, temporarily relieving the situation. It is expected that the cutter will also be assigned to the same duty today should the weather continue.

Intermittent service has been provided by various small boats since the Maid of All Work was lost some weeks ago, but no definite schedule maintained.

North Haven residents have voted to purchase and place in commission, a 65 foot power boat more suitable to the needs of the people. Doubtless, it will be some time before the boat will be on the run.

Steele Is Appointed

An Ex-Service Man Dons a Rockland Police Uniform

Donald S. Steele, 25, and a World War 2 veteran was Wednesday morning appointed to the city police force as a patrolman by City Manager Farnsworth. The new officer commenced his duties yesterday.

The appointment is for a six-months probationary period at a weekly salary of $35. Following this period, he will either be appointed to the permanent force or separated from the service as provided for under the merit system. Retention on the force when he is found fully qualified will result in a weekly salary of $37.

Recently discharged from the Army Transportation Corps, in which he enlisted in 1940, he makes his home at 23 Fulton street, is married and has one child.

A former resident of Islesboro, he served as a Staff Sergeant and master of an Army mine layer in Portland Harbor throughout the war.

Three reels of motion pictures, depicting the principal news events of the past three years, were shown at the Lions' meeting Wednesday, by Past King Lion Wilbur Senter, who never fails his club when called upon for entertainment.

There was one guest, Frank Hutchinson, of Portland. Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon enlisted the club's support in behalf of renewing the community chest, which means but one soliciting campaign a year in place of the many now being held. It was announced that a ladies' night will be held March 13. A donation of $25 was voted in behalf of better lighting at the High School building.

Music was provided by Wayne Drinkwater and his orchestra.

Funds earned by the dance will be used in the club's charitable work throughout the year.

The ball committee was comprised of Arthur Lamb, Fred Black, Lawrence Miller, Raymond Riser, Lloyd Richardson, Robert McCarty, Maurice Savoy, Frank Carsey, Charles McMahon and Pearl Studley.

Lt. Roy A. Jacobs has been transferred from Ellington Field, Houston, Texas, to Red Bank N. J.

Baptist Men's League

Members Heard Managing Editor O'Connell, Erstwhile War Correspondent

Editor John O'Connell

Members of the Baptist Men's League were last night given a first hand account of the activities of a working war correspondent, managing editor of the Bangor Daily News.

Mr. O'Connell spent 11 months in the ETO as representative of his paper, seeking out Maine men about whom he wrote in a manner which brought fame to him and his paper.

By his own statement, he rambled on through story after story with the result that he provided a highly interesting evening for his listeners.

During his talk, Mr. O'Connell stated in no uncertain terms that he considered that the American Legion heads had misstepped in attacking General Bradley and the Veterans Administration under his charge at this early date. He felt that at least one year should have been given Bradley whom he considers an outstanding general officer, to straighten out the rotten mess that has been the Veterans' Administration for the past 12 or 15 years.

Frank H. Ingraham announced that the next meeting will feature Commander Joe Taylor of the Brunswick Naval Air Station who will show motion pictures taken during the time of the burning of the carrier, Franklin, as well as a talk on his more than 20 years' Naval service.

The following meeting, the club will have as its speaker, Gov. Horace A. Hildreth.

Our Snow Problems

City Manager Farnsworth Makes Illuminating Reply To A Citizen

Dear Sir:—

I want to thank you for your note of Saturday enclosing the clipping entitled "man with the plow" and your notation "with a desire to be helpful." This is the kind of constructive criticism that we need and desire in order to create a better understanding and to promote better service to all.

The complaint of the citizen of another city had against the "man with the plow" for filling up his driveway with snow three times in one day is common all over Maine where there are sizeable communities. Without giving the matter much thought, or without knowing the reasons for the present practice, it does not look like the "unintelligent operation" mentioned in the newspaper clipping. However, I believe you will see by the following that it is not unintelligent, but is only done because a better way has not yet been found, although men responsible for clearing snow from the streets of our communities have been searching for one ever since motor vehicle operation became general the year round.

Let us start with a snowstorm. After snow has fallen to a depth of a few inches the snowplows start out. The city is divided into districts and each plow has its allotted area in order to give equal service, as nearly as can be, to all. The length of time it takes each plow to make the rounds of its streets depends upon several factors such as the severity of the storm whether or not there is drifting, wet snow, etc., but let us say a minimum of four hours.

Considering the paramount necessity of keeping all streets open for the passage of fire equipment, ambulances, doctors' cars, as well as delivery cars for fuel, food, etc., we will see that we have to open a lane to permit traffic to operate through all streets as soon as possible, and cannot take the time then to widen out to the full width required to provide for future storms and greater convenience of citizens when there is less urgency.

Before the plow returns to any given place, some car owner needs to take his car out, and proceeds to shovel out his driveway. Before he gets back, or perhaps even before he gets out of the garage, the plow returns on its widening-out mission and fills his driveway again. A second shovelling out may again be filled by the return of the plow for a subsequent widening out, having in mind the necessity of providing safe street widths, depending upon the density and character of traffic. We must still remember that each round of the plow requires several hours.

Some years ago, because of just such complaints from the citizens of another city, we tried out the plan of plowing to its ultimate width each street in the plowing district so that one clearing out of driveways by home owners would be sufficient.

This complete operation required about eight hours on the average for each district that length of time, some streets went unplowed entirely for about that length of time. Residents on the first streets were greatly pleased, but those on the latter streets were vehement in protest.

The next storm we plowed former first streets last and last streets first so as to give a fair demonstration to all. During the second storm a fire occurred on one of the streets that had not been plowed at all, and a disaster was barely averted because of the difficulty of getting the equipment to the fire. This brought an end, by common consent, to that plan.

Now then you may say that the city should have men following the plows to clear driveways as they are filled up by the plows. Let us analyze that suggestion. We have approximately 2,000 residential driveways in Rockland. A fair estimate of the length of time it would take a man to clear each driveway, on the average, might be taken as 10 minutes; certainly no less. At that rate it would take 10 men 33 hours or 4 days of 8 hours each. As driveways are used during a storm and soon after, that would be of little practical use.

Upon the same basis, however, it will be seen that this work would require 100 men for three hours, which is more reasonable.

As we are now able to secure only about 10 or 12 men for casual snow shovelling work, to secure 100 is obviously out of the question. Also, such a plan carried out the whole Winter, even if it were possible, would probably double the amount of our present snow removal budget and increase taxes accordingly.

Certainly we plan to facilitate the work of snow removal greatly in the business sections of the city when we can secure the necessary mechanical equipment. Now we have only men and hand shovels and trucks requiring days, whereas with mechanical equipment the same work can be done in hours.

With this equipment men can be released for work in the residential districts, and this, together with more sidewalk plows, will provide far better service than we are now able to provide. This, however, will not fully solve the problem of the "man with the plow," which is generally regarded in the light of the community rather than the individual.

I would appreciate your suggestions for betterment in this matter now or any other matter in the future which you may be assured we will welcome from you or any other interested citizen.

F. D. Farnsworth, City Manager

Ignored Warnings

And Motor Car Owners Had Choice Of Paying Fee Or Going To Court

Many a citizen and car operator who chose to ignore repeated warnings as to parking on Main street during plowing and snow removal operations, had the choice yesterday of paying a 75 cent fee for his oversight or face court on traffic violation charges.

The police posted the east side of Main street early and immediately started tagging violators. Some were indignant, figuring their liberties were being interfered with and others paid cheerfully, realizing they were getting off easy with the 75 cent fee rather than being hauled into court where it would cost them $50, according to an existing city ordinance.

Manager Farnsworth pointed out that some persons had little regard for the convenience of others and parked their cars Wednesday, at the height of the storm, at all angles and in places which blocked traffic badly.

Up to this morning, snow plow and removal crews had worked 36 hours continuously in an effort to keep the streets open to traffic. Hampered by obsolete equipment, with the exception of the new Walters Snow Fighter, they have had two out of four small truck plows in the shop at most times for repairs. Only one of the truck plows has a Vee plow, while the other three have blades which are useless in opening up a packed street and are used principally for widening out, once the Vee plows have opened a path for them.

While the city ordinances provide that city employees and equipment may remove cars from the streets when necessary, there is just not enough equipment to do it and still continue with plowing operations. Therefore, Mr. Farnsworth asks the cooperation of all motorists and that they adhere closely to the city ordinance and No Parking signs placed by the police for snow removal.

Hale's Bill Approved

A subcommittee of the Merchant Marine Committee has approved a bill introduced by Representative Hale of Maine which would count length of service in the Lighthouse Service in computing pay for men coming from that service into the Coast Guard. The Lighthouse Service has been merged with the Coast Guard and there have been charges of discrimination against Lighthouse Service personnel. The Hale Bill applies to officers, warrant officers and enlisted men. During the war the Coast Guard was merged under the jurisdiction of the Navy and Hale could not get favor for his bill.

Light Fund Ball

Lennie Lizotte's Famous Dance Band Will Be There On March 13

Maine's top flight dance band, the famous Lennie Lizotte 14-piece drive has been obtained for the widely heralded P.T.A. Light Fund Ball to be held March 13 in Community Building. And if the appearance of this sensational band were not enough a $25 war bond door prize has been added to give this affair an all-time high in popular appeal, because every penny of the proceeds will be devoted toward the immediate installation of the badly needed adequate lighting system in the High School auditorium study hall.

The High and Junior High P.T.A. group is sponsoring the dance as its opening gun in the $1,000 lighting project with Mrs. Marguerite Perry and Mrs. Pauline McL. Rogers as co-chairmen. The all-important matter of selling tickets is in the efficient hands of H. Laton Jackson. Willard P. Gray is chairman of publicity and advertising and Mrs. John E. Passon will be in charge of the refreshment booth.

As plans open up this P.T.A. Light Fund Ball bids far to equal if not surpass that colorful institution of two decades or more back, the P.T.A. Milk Fund Ball, operated when the Rockland P.T.A. had a membership of 1,000 and was a huge influence for good in school affairs.

The P.T.A. is coming back strong—if you don't believe it, look into Community Building the night of March 13.

AND HE WAS RIGHT

S. S. Cambridge Was Wrecked 60 Years Ago, Not 50 as Stated

Monhegan, Feb. 18. Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—In the Feb. 12 issue The Black Cat column states that Sunday was the 50th anniversary of the loss of the steamship Cambridge on Old Man ledge.

I thought it happened longer than that as I was in my teens. Walter S. Davis was there at the wreck as one of the crew of schooner Humboldt and one of the things they recovered was the piano which was a curiosity. Mr. Davis can remember how long ago it happened. Steamboat Lore Of The Penobscot by John M. Richardson says it was February 10, 1886. I think Mr. Richardson was correct. Linwood A. Davis.

ORDINANCE NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinances have been read and adopted by the City Council and will be in effect on February 18, 1946, and the full text may be obtained at the City Clerk's office.

This ordinance provides for the change in the City seal incorporating the name "Maine" which has heretofore been omitted. It provides for the filing of bonds by every City officer and employee, who handles any public money; it defines the boundaries of the City of Rockland; defines the words "City Charter"; covers commission of employees appointed by the City Council; deals with contracts, fire investigations; and specifically provides that City Council members shall not vote on any question in which they may be interested, and further prohibits any Council member from entering into any contract with the City of Rockland whereby he is directly or indirectly interested. It authorizes the City Manager to investigate all departments, provides for the removal of any City Council member from office for cause, and provides for the removal of any City Council member from office for cause.

GERALD U. MARGESON, City Clerk.

FIRE PREVENTION

This ordinance being in excess of one thousand words in length is published by summary only. Copies of the full text may be obtained at the City Clerk's office.

This is an ordinance designed for the prevention of fires in the City of Rockland and authorizes the Chief of the Fire Department or any member designated by him to inspect all premises throughout the City and to make orders for the removal or remedy of conditions liable to cause fires or interfere with the operation of the Fire Department. It also provides for the requiring of permits for the storage of certain combustible materials.

GERALD U. MARGESON, City Clerk.

FIRE LIMITS AND BUILDING CODE

This ordinance being in excess of one thousand words in length is published by summary only. Copies of the full text may be obtained at the City Clerk's office.

This ordinance which is in line with ordinances recommended by the National Board of Underwriters provides for certain fire limits being established within the City of Rockland, and further provides for the type of construction and material used in all sorts of buildings, together with penalties for violations.

GERALD U. MARGESON, City Clerk.

(EDITORIAL)

THE MAN WHO DIDN'T TELL A LIE

They tell lots of fanciful tales about the Father of His Country, whose birthday anniversary we are today celebrating, but the one which lingers in the youthful mind, at least, is the tree chopping incident in which George is supposed to have fessed up. Since George Washington was given to the world 264 years have elapsed—a long, long time for anybody to be held in memory—yet his is a name which we continue to idolize today, and his was a wisdom which will serve forever as a shining example for those who wish to array themselves on the side of right.

May we quote a few of his gems: "We must bear up and make the best of mankind as they are, since we cannot have them as we wish."

"The best means of forming a manly, virtuous and happy people will be found in the right education of youth—without this foundation, every other means, in my opinion, must fail."

"Let your hand give in proportion to your purse."

"Every hour mispent is lost forever, and... future years cannot compensate for lost days at this period of your life. This reflection must show the necessity of unremitting application to your studies."

"The man who wishes to steer clear of shelves and rocks must know where they lie."

"It is a man with no right to ask what, under similar circumstances, I would not grant."

"There is no restraining men's tongues or pens, when charged with a little vanity."

Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Commerce, who came within a few National Convention votes of being today's President, was asked a number of 64 questions at a recent press conference, one being whether he would run for Vice President with President Truman, and the other his intention to run for President if Mr. Truman does what Drew Pearson says he's going to do—or rather not do. But Henry Wallace has attended other press conferences and he sidestepped both questions by saying that the Vice Presidential nomination would go to some other part of the country, and, secondly, that Truman is going to run. And yet way down deep it is safe to bet a cookie that Henry Wallace is hoping the cards will read differently when the time rolls around.

Joseph E. Davies, who formerly represented the United States as Ambassador to Russia, defended the latter country's right to adopt espionage in learning about atomic secrets if such information is persistently withheld by its former ally. On the face of it we have always felt that it would be a great mistake for Uncle Sam to share the world's greatest secret with any other nation for fear that some nation might soon become a potential enemy. And yet refusal to lay our cards down on Russia's table implies a distrust of the Bear which cannot fail to widen a breach which could easily be opened. It's a ticklish problem, and one which we are going to leave with those better able to solve it.

If President Truman had known the trouble he was kicking up when he presented the appointment of Edwin W. Pauley as Undersecretary of the Navy he might never have made it. But he is sticking to his guns despite the unfavorable comment which the appointment has aroused. Senator Stewart, Dem. of Tennessee threw the latest bombshell when he called upon Pauley to withdraw out of common decency and the good of the party, which is apparently split wide open on the proposition. That conservative newspaper, the Christian Science Monitor says:

"We can understand why President Truman feels that the fight on the Pauley, Allen and Vardaman appointments is being used by his political opponents to their own advantage. But we cannot understand why he should regard the question of whether Edwin W. Pauley committed perjury as just a 'political argument,' and unworthy of investigation by the Justice Department."

The perjury question arose out of Mr. Pauley's testimony before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee in hearings as to his qualifications to be Undersecretary of the Navy. Harold L. Ickes had testified that Mr. Pauley, while treasurer of the Democratic Party, had suggested that he could get $300,000 in campaign funds from certain oil men if the Government would drop a suit they opposed. Mr. Pauley denied the Ickes charge, but it was supported by Robert Little, former Assistant Attorney General.

Because of the circumstances and Mr. Ickes' reputation for truthfulness, Mr. Pauley's denial is widely disbelieved. It seems to us that he is entitled to have the question of his veracity cleared up. It seems to us that the American people are entitled to have it cleared. And if the President does not see the impropriety of appointing a man with large oil interests to be Undersecretary of the Navy (with great influence on the handling of naval oil reserves) he should see the necessity of clearing this question.

It is certainly much more than a "political argument." It is a matter of fitness or unfitness for public office. It is a matter of perjury or no perjury.

GERALD U. MARGESON, City Clerk.

Haskell Twins Of Rockland Going To Capitalize On Flying Knowledge

Along with other thousands of distinguished pilots, discharged from the Army's ATC, Lt. Forrest M. Bird, Lt. Malcolm W. Haskell, and FO Glider Pilot Merton Haskell faced the painful problem of re-converting to civilian flying. The prospect was hardly rosy. They would have to buck competition from established air companies. Cargo and passenger carrying and instruction were fields already overcrowded. Still, the three had hope because they possessed two unbeatable assets: class 5-P licenses—licenses for flying every type of aircraft—and imagination.

Imagination lighted the way. Forrest M. Bird, who now heads the company, decided to apply his flying technique to the field of charter service. Lt. Ewing applied his knowledge of all types of aircraft to student instruction, and the Haskell twins shared the duties of flying and administration in the newly-formed company.

Other companies might specialize. Bird Airways was to make its mark by being versatile. It decided to offer every kind of service which could be accomplished with the aid of a plane.

It started courageously with one Cub Cruiser, eventually parlayed it and a Luscomb "Phantom" into a fleet of two twin-engined Cessnas, several Cubs, an AT-6, and a 10-place Nordway "Norseman." It is on the verge of acquiring a C-45 Beechcraft and two Douglas DC-3's. To each definite duties will be assigned.

One of the DC-3's will be converted into a flying icebox, or "reefer," for transporting luxury perishables such as crabmeat or strawberries to the tables of the city's leading Eastern oyster houses. In the same way fresh Eastern oysters will reach Western restaurants in better condition, and quicker. A large local garden seed company has contracted with the company to carry large shipments of Easter bulbs.

Several of their ships are used to fly busy groups of executives to Eastern conventions and back to their Los Angeles desks. The average charge is twenty-five cents per mile round trip on straight traveling. On stopovers, the first five hours are free, and everything above that is $10 an hour.

Another recently added service of the cargo department is flying companies of movie actors, as well as props, to various studio locations. Acquaintance with movie personnel yields a lucrative crop of students for Lt. Ewing's instruction department. The average charter fee for trips of this type is six cents a mile for a 500 mile trip.

Bird Airways' Norseman will be used as an aerial ambulance. It will carry patients, doctors and nurses for operations in Eastern Hospitals. Recently a Cessna saved the life of a polio-stricken child when it rushed it to Denver in time to receive necessary medical care from a specialist.

For trips including eight or more people, Captain Buxton, another veteran ATC pilot, will use the ten-place Norseman. It will fly to the Northwest and other points during open seasons on fish and game, carrying parties of hunters. Bird Airways is now negotiating for permits to fly mail over shorter routes to points inaccessible to bus or train.

Approaching every angle of their business imaginatively, the partners stumbled on a new use for some Catalinas which they acquired and which are now being converted. They have contracted with local fishing fleet operators to use PBVs for spotting schools of tuna and other commercially important fish while on their inter-island trips up and down the Pacific Coast. During the summer months they will operate un-scheduled flights between Long Beach and Alaska, carrying passengers, cargo and equipment up the coast route. Not all of the business which

Word has been received that SSGT. Glenon D. McHene has arrived in the states and is enroute to Fort Devens for final discharge. Sgt. McHene has spent over two years in the Pacific area.

Douglas K. Cooper, QM3c, of Rockland has been discharged from the Navy after nearly three years of service. His last duty station was on the USS Knave (A. M. 296). He is a son of Mrs. Almon B. Cooper, attended Rockland High School and University of Maine, winning his letter in dramatics.

Arrived at New York: SSGT William P. Leonard of Camden.

With the Eighth Army in Japan—Sgt. Sulo E. Sainio, whose mother lives at Washington, is announced as eligible for discharge by Major General H. P. Kramer's 97th Infantry Division, only division redeployed from Europe to Japan.

Inducted in March, 1943, Sgt. Sainio served as an ASTP student at Michigan State College before joining the 97th Infantry Division. As a mortar squad leader with Company G, 386th Infantry Regiment, he earned the Combat Infantryman Badge in the division's campaigns in the German Ruhr Pocket and Czechoslovakia.

San Francisco, Calif., Port of Embarkation: Sgt. Virginia F. Barlow of 12 Hill street, Rockland, debarked from the Chateau Thierry at the San Francisco, Calif., Port of Embarkation, Feb. 14. She will be enroute home within 24 hours, via the Army redeployment center nearest her residence.

She and her buddies on the transport received a rousing Welcome Home as part of the San Francisco Port of Embarkation welcoming program instituted by Major General Homer M. Groninger, Port Commander.

A gallantly decorated Welcome Home boat, carrying Port Wacs, Red Cross workers, civilians and Port band, met the ship at the Golden Gate Bridge for a rousing salute. With the band playing and the girls waving and cheering, the Welcome Home boat escorted the transport to the debarking pier.

During their brief stay at the Port processing areas, the home-bound Yanks swap their unseizable and surplus clothing and equipment, seat themselves to lavish spreads, including steak plus trimmings, catch up on rest and entertainment and then proceed on their next step toward home.

Basketball Battles Rockland 57, Belfast 29

Rockland High boys defeated Belfast at Belfast on Monday, by a score of 57 to 29. Rockland used most of its squad, the scoring being done by E. Barlow, McElroy and Marsh. The more experienced Rockland team controlled the ball throughout the game but the Belfast boys showed much improvement over their early season form, with some good set shots by its guards and with Boardman at forward accounting for half of the Belfast total.

Girls' Game Rockland 52, Belfast 29

Rockland High girls won a hard fought game from Belfast by a score of 52 to 29. The winning points coming in the last few minutes of play. Bill Sullivan put together a lineup which included three substitute players but with the steady influence of its veterans, the Rockland team settled down to a good passing and shooting game to produce the victory. Howard with 15 points, Conley with 9, Benner with 5, and Gardner with 3 points produced Rockland's winning score of 32 points, while the Belfast center and forwards worked some excellent plays for their 29 point total.

Jeeps On The Way

Will Arrive In Knox County the First Week In March

The new Willys civilian Jeep will begin arriving in volume in this county starting March 1, according to Clinton A. Lunt, manager of the Maine Willys Sales Company, 31 Main street, Camden. The Jeep lines resumed operation in January after several weeks' shutdown due to a suppliers' strike.

Mr. Lunt expects enough Jeeps in March to start filling his backlog of orders taken during the shutdown, and anticipates a steady rise in production to take care of new orders.

"The Jeep is the first of a complete line of Willys motor units which we will sell and service this year," said Mr. Lunt. "Following the Jeep will come a vehicle closely resembling the station wagon, but incorporating new concepts and features of design never before offered in a vehicle of this type."

"Next will be a new light truck in four conventional body types on the same chassis, followed by a larger commercial chassis of heavy load capacity. Rounding out the line will be a new and unique low-cost passenger car."

Clara Overlock says that she wouldn't sell her Centennial Copy For "A Buck"

Washington, Feb. 4. Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—The old saying, "Better late than never" is proving true in the many praiseworthy comments that come out each issue from readers of The Courier-Gazette from far and near, so I want to say for myself that the Centennial issue of our county paper was the "best ever," and right here let me say my copy cannot be purchased for even "one buck." It's mine for keeps.

I have been a correspondent for your excellent paper for more than 30 years, a once in a while writer of historical articles, doggerel poetry, etc., and a reader of nearly every printed word in the paper every issue, so I feel I may be classed with the others who give expressions of favorable comment.

I was amazed when I read Fred Simmons' item on "sayings." I can remember well the sayings in our family that grandfather and grandmother quoted and really believed were a part of their life. When I compare their life with the life of the present day, I wonder if outside of their hard work, they didn't get more real enjoyment from conjuring up signs and superstitions than many people of today get from wondering what they'll do next for enjoyment to occupy their minds.

Clara Overlock.

Chance Picked "Sack"

Former Star of Warren Team Named In a Combination of "Greets"

Southbridge, Mass., Feb. 8. To the Sports Editor:—

In going through some old papers the other day I found something that might interest you.

In the Fall of 1909 a bunch of ball players camping in northern Wisconsin asked Frank Chance to name the baseball team he would like to have play for him if he had to win just one game. Below is the list of players he selected. Of course at that time an all-star game was not even thought of.

Of particular interest is the comment of Irwin of the Cincinnati Reds as he looked over Chance's selections. He said "Many of us consider this fellow Sockalexis the greatest natural player ever to come up to the big leagues." Sockalexis, a Holy Cross product, is an Old Town, Maine, Indian and it was because of him that Cleveland became known as the Indians.

Keeler rf, Baltimore Orioles.
Lajoie, 2d, Athletics.
Sockalexis, cf, Cleveland.
Cobb, lf, Detroit.
Wagner, ss, Pittsburgh.
Collins, 3d, Boston Americans.
Chase, 1st, New York Highlanders.
Bergin, c, Boston Nationals.
Coddell, p, Athletics.
Wardell, p, Baltimore Orioles.

Whatever you think of Chance's All Star team it certainly ought to take you back to your boyhood days.

Yours truly,
H. E. Beverage.

A Remembered Yule
Delayed Report As To How Some Of Our Boys Spent It

On the USS Vincennes (Delayed)—Charles A. Van Fleet, seaman, first class, USNR, Rockland, spent part of Christmas Day sight-seeing in Apia, Upolu Island, British Samoa.

Some of the sailors who rated liberty went into Apia to witness a colorful Kava ceremony and Siva dance, traditional native welcoming ceremony to high personages; others climbed the long hill at one edge of town to see the grave of Robert Louis Stevenson. Christmas night the townspersons gave a dance for the enlisted men of the ship.

Two weeks earlier the ship was at the French port of Noumea, New Caledonia, where many of the men went ashore to sample French cooking and to buy souvenirs. Others wandered through the town gazing at quaint old houses and pretty French girls.

Then the Vincennes moved to Suva on the island of Viti Levu in the British Crown Colony of the Fiji Islands, where the men got a rare treat, fresh milk. Some trooped to the museum to look at the century-and-a-half old remains of the rudder of HMS Bounty, famed in the novel "Mutiny on the Bounty."

That Old Song

"You Never Miss the Water Till the Well Runs Dry"

Augusta, Feb. 4.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The Black Cat column a few days ago had a request for the words of the song "You never miss the water . . ."

I am enclosing a copy of the song, found in the Franklin Square song book published by Harper & Brothers. Author, Rowland Howard. The song follows:

When a child I lived at Lincoln with my parents on the farm; And lessons that my mother taught have never lost their charm; Or would she take me on her knee when tired of childish play, And as she pressed me on her breast, I've heard her gently say,

Chorus
"Waste not, want not, is a maxim I would teach; Let your watchword be Despatch, and practice what you preach; Do not let your chances like sunbeams pass you by."

For you never miss the water till the well runs dry."

As years rolled on I grew to be a mischievous-making boy, Destruction was my only sport, it was my only joy; And well do I remember, when oft-times we chattered, how my father thus advised:

Chorus
"Waste not, want not," etc. When I arrived at manhood and embarked in public life, I found it was a rugged road, bestrewn with care and strife; I specialized in losses were severe, But still a tiny little voice kept whispering in my ear:

Chorus
"Waste not, want not," etc. Then I studied strict economy, and found to my surprise, My funds instead of sinking still, full soon began to rise; I grasped each chance, and always struck the stone when 'twas hot, I seized my opportunities, and never once forgot—

Chorus
"Waste not, want not," etc. I applied Table model to my life, and wrote SUSIE B. AUSPUL, Rockport.

VINALHAVEN

MRS. EMMA WINSLOW
Correspondent

The three 4-H Clubs combined to enjoy a Valentine Party in the church vestry last Saturday night. The Junior Fox Island group planned the affair with games and refreshments which delighted all present. The games were appropriate to Valentines Day and several prizes were awarded. The refreshment table was attractive with Valentine favors and large red hearts as a center piece and the box lunch served was much enjoyed by the young people present. The affair was chaperoned by the 4-H leaders Miss Edith Grimes, Mrs. Isabelle Calderwood and Frank Sellers. The next general meeting will be March 15 and will be conducted by the boys club. Much credit is due the mothers for their generosity in providing the lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Barter visited Monday in Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cummings have returned from Rockland where Mr. Cummings was recently a surgical patient at Knox Hospital.

Mr. E. Huse of Kent's Hill has been guest this week at the home of Capt. and Mrs. A. M. Miller.

The budget committee met Tuesday night and completed their duties for the year.

Miss Pauline Gartner of New York City is guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. White and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith.

Birger Magnusson who is spending several weeks in Camden was in town Tuesday to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Elijah York.

Harold Haskell BMD, has returned to Fargo Barracks, Boston, after passing a short leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haskell.

Mrs. Elijah York who died Feb. 16 in Rockland aged 51 years, was born in this town and had lived here nearly all her life where she had many friends. She is survived by her husband, one son, Donald, two daughters, Mrs. Walden Hilding and Mrs. Foster Conary her parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Philbrook, one sister, Mrs. Louise Chilles, one brother, Lyford Philbrook, and seven grandchildren. Funeral services were held Tuesday at the home of Lyford Philbrook, Dr. C. S. Mitchell officiating. The floral tributes were beautiful evidences of the esteem and affection of friends and relatives. Bearers were Harvey Tolman, Valois Young, Maurice Brown and Ernest Young. Interment was in Cummings cemetery.

Services at Union Church Sunday will consist of Church School at 10 a. m., preaching service at 11 o'clock with sermon by the pastor, Dr. C. S. Mitchell, evening worship at 7.

Cardinals Arriving

And "Jim" Burns Writes Us To Say "St. Pete" Is Overcrowded

A pair of red birds perched on a batstick is seen on the letterhead of Hotel Bainbridge, St. Petersburg, Fla., where the St. Louis Cardinals are having their Spring headquarters. J. L. Burns of the Prince George Hotel staff writes thus to The Courier-Gazette:

"I thought you might be interested in this stationery. The owner of the Prince George Hotel, where I am, is also connected with the Bainbridge Hotel, which is located in the next block to us, and gave this to me.

"The Cardinals have started arriving and will start training soon. They will make their headquarters at the Bainbridge, and I am in hopes of seeing them in action down here.

"The Yankees will start later as those players who were in service, go to Panama for workouts before coming here. This will be the first season that either team has been here since before the war.

"I received a copy of the 100th anniversary of The Courier-Gazette and was much pleased with it. I was sorry, however, not to find any pictures of the old lime kilns, or wood freighters that were so familiar in the harbor when I was a boy, and I am sending you this as a suggestion:

"Most of the subscribers will keep this paper, and I am wondering if it would be possible to print a page now and then, devoted to old pictures of Rockland and stories of events that happened years ago, to add to this edition. I think if were mentioned in the paper, sufficient pictures and other material would come in from readers to make an interesting picture of Rockland in other days.

"There are quite a few Knox County people here, and 'Freem' Young is the latest to register at the Chamber of Commerce.

"St. Petersburg is certainly packed to overflowing with visitors this Winter, and many who come here cannot find accommodations, and leave the same day.

"Best regards, and congratulations on the splendid job of getting out the 100th anniversary edition."

SANITARY MILK BOTTLES

How They Have Changed Old Custom of Delivering From Large Cans

Rockland, Jan. 30.
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Upon making inquiries among several as to when the sanitary milk bottles came on the market, none could tell the exact date. I believe any one must be over 50 to remember the old style of delivering milk.

The milkman came along with large cans (the cover being a quart measure) and dealt it out as he went along. He was out early before many were up. Most people put out some sort of receiver for the milk.

How about dogs? Well, they were good dogs and sometimes took a sup but that was all they would do. Later in the morning people would be waiting at the door for the milkman, standing in stocking feet.

The milk bottle has changed all that. The grocer used to take the

At Lakewood

Famous Theatre Scheduled To Open By Mid-June

Lakewood and Cottages will open for the 45th consecutive season early in June. The Lakewood Theatre is scheduled to open the middle of June through August with a selection of the finest plays and most talented cast obtainable.

All departments at Lakewood will be under the personal supervision of Mrs. Herbert L. Swett assisted by the same personnel that has worked closely with the late Mr. Swett for many years. There will be no change in policy.

This is a busy Winter at Lakewood. A crew of men are making various repairs and doing maintenance work which was next to impossible during the war years. Work is now in progress on a large addition to the Inn kitchen. This will include a new employees dining room, new storage rooms and a large and completely modern dishwashing system. In effect this will create a much higher standard of service for Lakewood guests than was possible with the old equipment. The work is going on under great difficulties. Scarcity of proper lumber and building materials is a problem, but there is every assurance of having all in readiness for the Spring opening.

HEARS FROM A JAY SEE

And Sure Enough He and Fred Simmons Were Classmates

Watertown, N. Y. Feb. 9
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
The favorable comments about your paper is a just tribute, and well deserved, of the very high esteem in which your paper is held, not only by your subscribers but by your contemporaries. A fine job!

A letter from A Jay See was received recently after going to another Fred, on a rural route. He proved to be, what I felt he was, a former classmate. It was a pleasure to get news from him after these long years, for he was a favored friend in those days.

Looking over the files of my paper I found where he also had received a card from Ripley in February, and mine was in July. It seemed a coincidence, that after so many years, former classmates should receive cards so closely together!

We have a Peoples Column in the Watertown Times and I expect much criticism from there, as they argue every thing worth it and much that is not! As a student of the former Oliver Otis style I may persuade them to stay clear.

All is well with me—But for the Country: Cor! Lime!

milk can around to the cart also, when he delivered groceries, and dish it out as he went along his route.

Did Turkey Trot

That Is, the Skippers Did—For the Ganders 'Twas Funeral March

Captain Grimes played his trump card last Monday night when he put on a splendid turkey supper at the Union Church vestry, in the hope that this kind of a menu would be just what the Ganders needed to put them on the winning side, but it seems as if the Ganders are not built right to digest turkey and accessories, and the Skippers again copped the victory, throwing the Ganders into confusion and Capt'n Grimes into utter despair.

The turk was donated by Doc Mills, inspected by Doc Earle, sampled by Doc Drew and consumed by some 18 Doctors of Bowling, who pronounced it one of the finest birds to ever grace a bowlers table, and a rousing vote of thanks was given to the donor. In addition to the bowlers and substitutes guests included Doctor Ralph Earle, George Newbert, Wendell Mitchell, Calvin Vinal, Walter Mills and the two pin boys, Freddie Phillips and Charles Adams.

But to Cap'n Grimes the true test of a turkey is not what is said about it at the table but how his team performs on it at the alleys, and in this respect the turkey supper was a total flop, for the Ganders only slipped a little further back toward the rear on the turkey grass, while the Skippers did a bit more ahead on the gravel.

The first string came out a tie and it was agreed that whichever team won the second string would win two points. This was a fortunate thing for the Skippers for they bowled a sizable 474 aided in a great measure by Peterson's 121, and in this manner won the second string, winning the match and three points by actually winning only one string, for the Ganders staged a rally in the last string taking it by 12 pins with Doc Mills pushing over a neat 112.

But the Skippers had piled up too big a lead in their second string and had a lead of 16 pins at the finish.

Link Sanborn of the Ganders had a vision of things to come when he had a nightmare of an evening at the alleys with bad breaks, hard luck, and a positive mania for picking out single pins, and then had to go home and endure another nightmare all through the night, in which he chased bank robbers and was in turn chased by a gigantic turkey that looked like Cap'n Grimes and claimed he was the Goose.

Link said he didn't know whether it was the quality of the turkey or the quantity of same, that gave him such bad dreams and such bad scores but in any event, it was a terrible night for one of the Ganders' best men.

For the benefit of those who like to keep tabs on the standing of the "eating bowlers," or the "Bowling eaters" whichever you like it, the result of this match (the 14th) shows the Skippers with 9 wins as compared to the Ganders 5 and 43 points for the Skippers to 27 for the Ganders.

The thirteenth match, which was won by the Skippers, was not chronicled in this column.

Skippers—Young 233, Adams 255, Peterson 290, Mitchell 262, Poole 237.

Ganders—MacDonald 251, Grimes 245, Sanborn 245, Mills 238, Goose 282, Total 1311.

Scorers, Mills and Vinal.

First in War... First in Peace!

First National Stores join the Nation in honoring a Great American for outstanding service to his Country and to his fellow man. Those of us in the business of serving the public will remember George Washington not so much because he served the people, but above all because he served the people well. We can remember him best by striving to bring our individual services to new heights of perfection.

First in Quality... First in Thrift!

First National Stores have long been pledged to not only serve the people but to serve them well. In more and more communities, First National Stores are recognized as landmarks of Quality and Thrift, where fine foods at fair prices may be obtained in an atmosphere of courtesy and cleanliness.

SORE THROAT
due to colds

Let a little Vicks VapoRub melt on the tongue. Works fine, to soothe sore throat due to colds and helps relieve irritation in upper breathing passages.

To ease Spasms of Coughing: Rub a good spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Wonderful relief comes as you breathe in the steaming medicinal vapors that penetrate to cold-congested upper breathing passages—soothes the irritation, quiets fits of coughing, helps clear head.

For Added Relief, rub VapoRub on throat, chest and back. Let its famous double-action keep working for hours as you sleep.

PHOTOSTATIC COPIES

Military discharges, copied and printed in sizes suitable for Veterans Bureau, employer and school application use; also pocketbook sizes.

Copies made of any document, Birth Certificates, Marriage Certificates, Records from the family Bible, Legal Documents, etc.

It Wanted Snow

And Wish of the Camden
Outing Club Was Apparently Gratified

"Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow," is the theme song of the Snow Bowl Outing Club members, who met at the Town Office Wednesday night to make plans for the remainder of the season.

Thursday night, Feb. 21, another fish chowder supper, prepared by Walter Rich, was served at the Lodge House. The Lodge House will be open also Friday, Saturday and Sunday this week, and if snow conditions warrant it, the ski tow will run on these days.

Although snow conditions were not very good last weekend, the Snow Bowl ski tow was one of the few operating in New England, and quite a few skiers used the upper slope.

Joining the skaters on Hosmer's Pond at the Snow Bowl Sunday afternoon was a ski-equipped airplane which landed on the ice for a few minutes.

Many also enjoyed the fish chowder dinner served Sunday noon at the Lodge House by Milford Payson, chairman of the House Committee. Each was dressed in old costumes, games were played and box lunch was enjoyed. Others attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Grafton, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knights, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ames.

Since her discharge from the service she has been employed by the New England Textile Co. at Rockland. Mr. Miller also graduated from Rockport High School and served four years in the Armed Forces, being stationed in California.

HOW FAST DO THEY FLY?

Blowing Teal Is Speediest Of All Game Birds

The question of the flying speed of game birds has never been definitely settled but estimates based on the opinion of experienced woodsmen afford a pretty good idea of how fast they go. The experts agree on one point. When a bird is unmolested, his flight is slower than when he is frightened. On the approach of a hunter they can shift in high as many shooters can attest. ## Some Dizzy "Figgers"

Furnished By National Association of Mutual Savings Banks

Record totals in amounts of deposits and number of depositors are shown in the annual reports of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. As of January 1, 1946 total deposits in the mutual savings banks of the country reached $15,332,201,146, representing an increase of $2,000,391,516 over a year ago. This is the greatest increase in deposits in any single year in 130 years of operation.

Total assets kept pace with deposits and now amount to $17,013,451,176, an increase during 1945 of $2,200,799,979.

The number of mutual depositors increased by 581,533 during the year, making a record total of 16,902,762 accounts.

A breakdown of deposits showed that at the year-end mutual savings banks had $15,287,257,525 in "regular accounts." This balance excluded all "special purpose accounts," such as Christmas Clubs, school savings, and similar accounts.

The average deposits in "regular accounts" amounted to $1,104.06 and the average deposit for all types of accounts was $907.08.

Combined surplus of mutual savings banks reached the peak figure of $1,628,857,713, an increase of $174,119,405 over the total for 1944.

This establishes a ratio of surplus to deposits of 10.6 percent, one of the most substantial ever afforded any large sum of small capital.

Interest-dividends paid to depositors remain stable, emphasizing continued limited investment possibilities, the average rate paid upon deposits being 1.68 percent.

Annual Guest Day

Lady Knox Chapter, D. A. R. To Observe It March 4— Luncheon At Copper Kettle

The annual guest day of Lady Knox Chapter D.A.R. will be held March 4, at 2 p. m., in The Universalist vestry.

Dr. John Smith Lowe will review "The Townsman" by John Sedgwick. This book has been a best seller in the list of books published in 1945. It was up close to the top in reviews by the critics.

It is a thrilling human interest story of pioneer life in America back in the days when the great western empire of the United States was in the making.

Westward, ever westward, the early adventurers went, but "The Townsman," John Goodlife, stayed on in Maine to build a town out of the raw material about him. His life was hard and cheerless. His victory grew out of never-ending defeats. The story is full of drama. It ends in glorious triumph.

Honor guests will be the State Regent, Mrs. Leroy Fogg Hussey, and Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Alton M. Littlefield, both of Augusta. The former will bring greetings from the State Association of Maine Daughters of the American Revolution.

A luncheon will be served at the Copper Kettle at 12:30 p. m. Reservations must be made not later than Feb. 28, by calling Mrs. Harold Karl. Tel. 745.

The McLain P.T.A.

Stage Version Of A Radio Broadcast Will Be Presented Monday Night

The McLain P.T.A. will meet Monday night. The meeting will have a particular significance this time because of the celebration of National P.T.A. Day. In Maine of this occasion is being presented a stage version of a radio broadcast entitled "With Faith and Hope." The following members are in the cast:

Announcer, Raymond Perry; narrator, Mrs. Harry Wilbur; Mrs. Birney, Mrs. Donald Coughlin; Mrs. Hearst, Mrs. Harold Whitehill; Miss Taylor, Mrs. Phyllis Grispi.

The last three will be costumed in the attire of the gay Nineties.

The State theme this year is "More public participation in education." Sup't. Lunt has just made available to the schools three new sets of reference books. H. L. Sawyer of Portland has started a "Look It Up Club" in the two Sixth Grades. He is going to be present. Perhaps when he explains what he is doing with the children, and how the books can be used, one may have an easier feeling of how to participate in finding out the latest advances in education.

ELLEN M. WALLACE Ellen M. Wallace, widow of James H. Wallace, died Feb. 19 at her residence 199 Cumberland avenue, Portland, Me. Her survivors are her daughter, Mrs. Cassie and grandson, George Kennedy, a brother Alvin Geyer, nieces and nephews Ellen and Eddie Merrill, Massachusetts.

This And That

A favorite wheeze of one friend is this: A man went to a hotel and asked for the $2 dinner. The waiter said: "Yes, Sir, how do you like it, on white or rye."

Why, in these times of dire need of men of broad experience, is there no call for ex-President Herbert Hoover? His exceptional ability his world-wide understanding of the needs of the times in every field, his vigorous health and wise decisions, should be of utmost help in national and world needs.

Mischa Elman, lunching at the home of Arthur Fiedler, popular conductor of the Boston Pops concert, was delighted with the excellent repast prepared by Fiedler's cook, and asked permission to visit the kitchen and deliver a compliment in person.

"I want to tell you," he said to the factotum of the pots and pans, "I am simply enchanted with the excellent meal you have just served."

"Oh, Mr. Elman," was the embarrassed reply, "thank you so much. I—I do you know, Mr. Elman, I'm going to your concert tomorrow and I only hope I enjoy it as much as you did my cooking."

Out on Gilbert Head Island, where the Stephen Etters have a Summer home, and a most attractive one, where they have lived for three Summers. It is the realization of a dream of theirs, now made a permanent home. Mrs. Etters has captured the life and beauty of it all in her book on Gilbert Head, and her husband Stephen has found much for inspiration in his delightful paintings. Lt. Etters' work was stopped while he was three years in service. Just recently Lt. Etters of Boston had an exhibit of his Maine coast pictures.

An American Air officer was searching for a name for a new super-plane. His wife spoke up with this suggestion: "The leading American word today is 'Okay.' Thus 'Okay' the plane was named."

John Templeton Coolidge, 89, has died at his Boston home recently. He was active in many art enterprises and was an artist of repute. He had been a member of the Art Commission for years.

From the way the wind blows it will be in the minds of our children to get out their kites. Do not let them use wire cord. See that trouble for the child, kite and electric wires. Metal ribs are also bad. So protect your children and electric wires.

Of all the birds for sweets, the humming bird is king of feasters. His long bill is of the greatest help, also his ability to fly backward and poise motionless in mid-air to sip the nectar. They will find sugar easier than most persons these days.

Wise words of God denies our aspires For gifts we ask—but do not require; Tired hearts should trust and obey, And trust wise love's way.—K. S. F.

Division Manager H. P. Blodgett, received a surprise New Year's gift from Eastern Division employees—a purse of $60—the money to be used for the purchase of a gun, getting him all prepared for next November and that week's hunting trip in the big woods.

During a heavy snowstorm recently the snowflakes collected on the beam causing our store door to stay open which was most uncomfortable for those in the store. Percy Williams and Lute Jones got their heads together, rigged up a box with a hole in it the size of the eye, placed it over the eye to keep the snowflakes out, and it worked perfectly. Patent pending.

Wilbur Strong turns in the following item from the Glen Cove substation. During a recent snow and rain storm, the water flowed down the street, went in through the main door of the substation, and approximately two inches of water flowed across the floor, and Wilbur had to shovel water and snow for about four hours.

Wilbur and Mrs. Strong went to Washington, D. C. over New Year's. They had trouble with their car on the way to Washington, D. C., a wheel coming off in Worcester. The car was late to work the other morning. She drives from her home in Warren over a back road to Camden, and on the way to work she came upon a house directly across the road. Now the story goes that Virginia got a little excited, not wishing to be late to work, and decided to drive right through the back door to the front; but the workmen finally persuaded her to wait for them to move the house so, she could go by. You should stick to the main road Virginia and not try those short cuts.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW

Some Unusual and Striking Exhibits In Boston Next Month

With the opening of the New England Spring Flower Show at Mechanics Buildings, Boston, only five weeks away, the work of forcing more than a million bulbs, plants, shrubs and trees into flower in March is reaching its critical point. In a hundred greenhouses, anxious gardeners are coddling their flower show stock—keeping an eagle eye on the heat. A little too much warmth and the plants will bloom too soon; not quite enough heat and the went to Boston January 5th and took in the Icecapades.

Bernard Bergen has been transferred from the gas department to the meter department.

Milton Rollins of the meter department went to the TOOP inspection in Newton, Massachusetts recently.

Lute Jones and Carroll Merrill have turned veterinarians. Carroll's boy's pony has been sick—they diagnosed the case as colic, rendered proper treatment, and the pony is better than ever.

We hear that Marjorie Standish is leaving the Central Maine Power Company home service department and taking up her duties as home maker for her husband. Those of us in the Eastern Division who have come to know "Marj" send our best wishes, and hope she will come in and see us when she is over this way.

It is like old times in the store again. For three years we have been unable to furnish the Eastern Star with floor lamps for their installation night; but this year we were able to come through again and furnish them with attractive lighting for their reception.

Inventive taking is the big item for Floyd Berner and Tom Lawson. They took inventory in Belfast February 1; inventory will be taken in Boothbay March 1 and Rockland inventory April 1. How are you over and short items, boys?

Lyford Ames, commercial salesman, is sporting swanky gloves made from the skin of the deer he shot last November.

The Central Maine was featured in The Courier-Gazette's 100th anniversary paper with a fine picture of the Rockland line boys working on a pole—Bullah Ames' column in "The Exciter."

To Be Wed In April

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hosmer announce daughter's engagement to Rockland Man

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hosmer of 567 St. Paul street, Burlington, Vt., announce the engagement of their daughter, Beryl M. Hosmer, to Tracy F. Howe of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Howe of Burlington and Waitsfield, Vt.

Miss Hosmer attended Technical High School Springfield, Mass., and was graduated from Burlington High School and the University of Vermont, where she was enrolled in elementary education. She recently received her discharge from the SPARS, stationed with the U. S. Coast Guard at Boston and Rockland. Since her discharge, she has resumed her former position as Teller at the Merchants National Bank. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Mr. Howe also recently received his discharge from the U. S. Coast Guard, having been stationed in Florida, New Orleans, and New York. He is now employed with the John J. Nissen Co. of Portland, as supervisor for the Rockland section. He was graduated from Waitsfield, Vt. High School and the Burlington Business College.

The wedding will take place in Burlington in April.

Song of the Eighties, Requested By Mr Philbrick—The First Verse

Friendship, Feb. 4. Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In regard to Mr. Philbrick's question, "Who remembers the song of the Eighties?" I well remember it and its verse quotation is the last part of the chorus

To get the full meaning of the advice, here is the first verse: "When a child, I lived in Lincoln with my parents on the farm. The lessons that my mother taught to me were quite a charm. She would often take me on her knee, when tired of childish play, And as she pressed me to her breast, I'd hear my mother say, Waste not, want not, is the maxim I would teach."

For your waterwheel be Dispatch, and practice what you preach. Do not let your chances, like sunbeams, pass you by. For you never miss the water till the well runs dry."

This song of five verses, with music, is in the book entitled "Heart Songs." I will copy and send the other verses to Mr. Philbrick if he desires it.

What A Man Sows

Feb. 17—There are only 11 more days in this month. Spring is at hand. The sun is riding high. You may not have heard the voice of the turtle dove, but you have heard that sweet songster, the crow, if you have listened.

I have had my first meal of this year's alewives; and picked up two marbles in the icy gutters. The day's length has increased one hour and 43 minutes. The almanac says Spring commences March 20. One does not have to wait for the official opening, that may be too late.

Flower and vegetable catalogues are ready now. The New York Times florists are selling about things to come. Henry Drummond, years ago, wrote a book, "Natural Law in the Spiritual World." How precise are God's laws. I know my crocuses will bloom Feb. 28, although there are no signs of them now, but God's forces underneath the snow and ice are at work.

Christ told a story of the farmer whose men sowed good seed and slept; and the farmer's enemy came and sowed weeds. It made no difference to nature, but a great difference to the farmer. Christ used it to illustrate that what a man sows he will surely reap.

Paul, in 2d Corinthians, said, "The man who sows sparingly will reap sparingly, but he who sows bountifully will reap bountifully"; and in Galatians, Paul carries this law into the spiritual world. "God is not mocked. He who sows to the flesh will reap corruption but he who sows in the spirit will reap life everlasting. Let us then do good, for in due time we shall reap, if we do not relax."

These laws are known to every farmer, and they are known to all. Length of days are short at best. No matter what you have sowed heretofore, Spring is coming and Summer follows quickly. Whatever the Autumn and the harvest time bring will depend on what is sown now; and just as it did to Christ's farmer, it makes all the difference in the world.

William A. Holman.

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon that will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Feb. 24. The Golden Text is: "Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes. Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law" (Psalms 119:33, 34).

At Pratt Memorial Methodist Church the annual observance of Laymen's Sunday will be held. At the morning worship at 10:45, Ralph U. Clark, lay leader, will conduct the service, assisted by Harrison Dow. The speaker, Leroy Chitto, will have as the subject "Our Time and Less Mandate." A quartet will sing "Come My Soul," by Hayden, and Mrs. Lydia Storer will sing "The Earth Is the Lord's," by Lynes. The church school will meet at noon. ## Founders Week

Is Being Observed By the A & P Food Stores, Honoring G. H. Hartford

The originator of the modern Chain store is being honored here this week by the A & P Food Stores.

Local observance of Founders' Week, announced by J. J. Byrnes, president of New England Division for the company, will pay tribute to George Huntington Hartford who, in 1859, opened the first red-fronted store in what is now the world's most extensive system of food distribution.

"Mr. Hartford founded more than a grocery business," Byrnes said. "He fathered a principle of mass distribution which in its 86-year history has not only helped establish a high standard of living for American wage-earners but has also provided industry as a whole with a blueprint for public service. All of the company's facilities are now being directed toward improving the quality and variety of foods. During the war, consumers were tolerant of substitutes for scarce items but, with the return of peace, they have become highly selective in their purchases, and their demands must be met."

Speedier transportation, direct farm-to-store deliveries, modern packaging and better refrigeration will enable distributors to bring foods to market in better condition, he pointed out. Wartime scientific developments also have been enlisted in an effort to improve food processing and to help eliminate waste and spoilage as factors in food cost.

Paying special tribute to more than 26,000 employees of the company who served in the armed forces, Byrnes said that the return of thousands of experienced food workers will help restore and expand shopping conveniences.

Farm Bureau Notes

Agricultural Notes

Two new bulletins are available from the Agricultural Extension Service Office, Rockland. They are Bulletin No. 340 "Farm Butter Making" and Circular 220 "D.D.T. Controls Flies In Dairy Barn."

At the Dairy Herd Improvement Association meeting in Union this week Ivan Mink was awarded the Charles H. Hood Dairy Foundation first prize of $75 as having the herd in the State showing the greatest improvement in milk production over the period of 1942 to 1945.

In fertilizing dairy pastures use either manure supplemented with super-phosphate 500-800 pounds of a mixed fertilizer. In using fertilizer it will be to the dairyman's advantage to use one recommended by the Production and Marketing Administration Program. Information on the fertilizers recommended may be obtained from the Rockland office.

Three poultry meetings will be held in the district March 7 and 8, (Thursday and Friday). Frank Reed, poultry specialist, will be the speaker. The first meeting will be held at the American Legion hall, Damariscotta, Thursday afternoon March 7; and an evening meeting at 8 with the Knox County Poultry Improvement Association at Herbert Emmons farm, Warren. On Friday afternoon at 1:30 there will be a meeting at the Court House in Rockland.

4-H Club Notes

Vinalhaven entertained Miss Sylvia Poor, assistant State 4-H club leader, Monday, Feb. 11, with a joint meeting of the three clubs, Diamond Rock Boys' club, Fox Island Juniors and the new girls Sewing Club. Miss Poor explained the new sewing project leaflets and gave suggestions for keeping record sheets up to date. Notebooks for each 4-H member were also discussed.

Miss Poor conducted a judging contest with each club as follows: Diamond Rock Boys judged beans with Laurence Philbrook as judging winner; Fox Island Junior Girls judged buttonholes and Ada Anthony won the judging ribbon; and the new girls' sewing club judged Buttonholes with Doris Philbrook as winner.

Hollis Burgess leads the Diamond Rock Boys. Mrs. Isabel Calderwood the Fox Island Juniors and Miss Edith Grimes the new girls' sewing club. Simonton's Corner Boys learned to iron their own shirts the easy way at their last meeting when Miss Sylvia Poor, assistant State club leader, was a guest. A demonstration on sprinkling, rolling and ironing a shirt was given by the club agent Mrs. Loana S. Shibles, then shirts were ironed by Ralph Simonton, Ralph Miller, Ralph Dunton, William Annis and C. Herbert Annis. Mrs. Bertha Start Annis, a former 4-H member also ironed her husband's shirts.

Muffins were made at the fourth meeting of the Medomak Valley Hustlers at the home of Mrs. Nettie Grinnell. Accurate measurements were stressed as well as method of procedure and different kinds of muffins. Miss Sylvia Poor, assistant State club leader, was present and an excellent business meeting was presided over by President Bernard Leigher. These club members have their record sheets up to date.

Eunice Ross and Maxine Dyer of Medomak Maine-lax Club of Wadoboro practiced a Table Setting demonstration at their meeting Saturday. They plan to give this demonstration at the Community Meeting in April, at which all the members of this club are taking part in the program, with music, songs and demonstrations. Mrs. Philip Lee is leader of this up and coming 4-H club.

Kenneth Bartlett of West Washington was elected president and leader of the Daisy 4-H club at their meeting with Miss Poor, assistant State club leader on Feb. 12. Donna Dawson was elected vice presi-

Heard Son's Name

Mrs. Joanna Dodge Of Talbot Avenue Was Listening To Bangor Station

Charles Frazier goes a-motoring

Listening to station WLBZ Sunday night, Mrs. Joanna Dodge, 45 Talbot avenue heard portion of a broadcast in which the name of her son, Charles Frazier, was mentioned. She wrote to the Bangor station for the full text of the broadcast and promptly received the following reply:

"Portland: The Maine Publicity Bureau receives many unusual requests. The latest is a letter from B. L. Rylance of Thornton, Heath, England. Rylance wants to locate Bdr Charles Frazier of the Canadian Army, who told him that after the war he planned to settle down in Portland, Maine.

"Rylance has not heard from Frazier since the war ended, and he is eager to learn whether his friend survived the closing weeks of battle. The bureau couldn't find Frazier in Portland, but officials have contacted the Canadian government and hope to learn something from that source. It seems that no request is too unusual for the Maine Publicity Bureau to tackle."

So far as Mrs. Dodge knows her son is still in England. The accompanying picture was taken at Thornton Heath, between Croydon and London last March.

Cardinal Spellman

Rich In Thought Were His Statements Issued After Appointment

The following sentiments were expressed by Francis Cardinal Spellman after his appointment in Rome Tuesday:

This is the Godlike way, the God-like life. That each of us must live; and living, reap. Rich harvest where no riches grew before.

We who would gather in the Autumn days. Of life, must learn to sow, bravely to give.

For only those who sow may hope to reap. The fulsome harvest that alone they gain.

Who measure life in terms of give, and find. Full payment in the Master's greater love.

Reward beyond all measure; and their gifts. Still theirs, beyond attrition of the year.

Dear God, bless us with this, the spirit of. Your son. No nation from your hand has drawn.

A greater largesse of the things of earth. To be the friend of all, the foe of none.

To win our victories upon the field. Of peace, and seek this peace for all mankind.

Not for ourselves alone, a place and right. To live; as a Good Samaritan, patiently.

To heal the festered wounds that gall mankind. To live God's plan at home, abroad, and humbly.

Pray the guardian of the Master's grace. Upon our hearts, our homes, our blessed land.

Upon our children's children, till the world's. Span of fleeting time shall come to end.

Bless us, dear God, contrite, we kneel to thee.

Pfr. Robert A. Ballinger, U.S.A., son of Chief Warrant Officer, U.S.C.O., and Mrs. Leonard Elliott of Chicago.
